What's New with R-Anell Homes®

It's been three years

since R-Anell Homes has had a home show and we're happy to be back. It probably isn't a stretch to say we are ready to have 'normal life' again. After spending a lot of time inside, new home buyers are ready to cultivate a home that is uniquely theirs. Just last week, R-Anell Homes debuted new floorplans and home series at their builder's home show in North Carolina. R-Anell Homes takes the pressure off of home buying with our expansive Decor and Options guides, home series with their own standard features, and optional additions for more space. R-Anell Homes is a modular builder won't be disappointed with.

RockBridge Elite

R-Anell Homes unveiled a new branch of the RockBridge Elite series with the RockBridge Elite 2.0. The RockBridge Elite 2.2, 1R2208-V, is a modular ranch home that features a great room, massive master bath; complete with dual, home office, and mud room. We understand the value of privacy; this floorplan is designed with three separated bedrooms, accompanied with a second bath, and even an option to convert this home into a two-story cape. However, it's the kitchen that will be the heart of this home. Debuting one of our new cabinet colors, Deep Blue, is complimented nicely with new lighting fixtures, gold hardware, Wilson Art Counter tops, and walk-in pantry.

BlueRidge Limited

The BlueRidge Limited series features floorplan, 1BL1005-V. This modular ranch home has three bedrooms, two baths, and great room for entertaining. While not entirely open concept, this home offers the right amount of separation between the kitchen and living room. The ClearView windows in the breakfast nook allow for so much natural lighting, you won't be disappointed. The BlueRidge Limited series is a part of the BlueRidge family, in addition to the BlueRidge standard features, the Limited has nine additional features that range from construction to interior design.

The Summit

The Summit, 2S3005-R. The word cozy is usually associated with small spaces, but at 1,777 square feet, this home offers the coziness with an amazing amount of space. The exterior alone has a welcoming vibe with a covered front porch, great for any season. Upon entering this house, you immediately feel at home. The 15'x17' great room has gravitational pull, with the kitchen to the right and a separate area for the bedrooms on the left- this living area will bring a family together. The nook is slightly set apart to distinguish itself from the kitchen. This floorplan also features the cape option. The cape feature is where a homeowner can add another living area, bathroom, rec room, or even storage use.
